

LANGUAGE CAPABILITIES FOR WORLDWIDE DEPLOYMENTS:

The language services division of FedSys, Inc has been established and designed specifically to identify, recruit, vet, train, deploy and manage resources in support of US CONUS/OCONUS missions/programs. FedSys has the capability and existing infrastructure to support essentially any organization's language needs from providing one or two qualified linguists to managing entire language programs.

FedSys' management team has extensive experience with the recruitment, deployment, retention, management (pre and post deployment) and timely delivery of personnel within peacetime and hostile areas of operations. FedSys employs native speakers with the required dialects to assist in the recruitment and quality control of linguist candidates.

FedSys's existing infrastructure enables it to offer customers program management support to their desired level. Support available to customers encompasses regional program support, area of operation support and operational support. FedSys has the ability to manage resources locally or provide resources to customers for OCONUS deployments. FedSys personnel have hands-on experience building local national programs in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and have the ability to customize programs for specific needs or training.
